I. READING COMPREHENSION:

Text: The Position of women in town.

Men will only settle permanently in town if their wives or female members of their families live with them and make a home for them. In many towns in West Africa women are expected to make their living by trade even after they are married. For instance, in 1950, some 32 000 women living in Lagos were traders. In these towns, wives increase the wealth of their families and it is an advantage for men living in town to have their wives with them. In town many workers cannot afford to bring their wives and family to live with them because the men have to feed, clothe and house them out of their wages. If their wives stay in the country, they can look after their husbands' farms and feed themselves and their children.

PAPER N° 13

I. READING COMPREHENSION

Text:

Democracy is a system of government by all the people of a country, usually through the representatives that they elect, as allowing freedom of speech, religion and political opinion. It means fair and equal treatment of each other by citizens without social class division.

It is the system of governing the country according to people's will. In a democratic country, people elect their representatives who work for the people. Free and fair election is the pre-condition of democracy. Democracy is the right of the people to speak equal rights. They enjoy the right of food, cloths, shelter, education, medical treatment and other facilities. People are the source of power; that is, they possess the absolute power in a democratic country.

PAPER N° 15:

I. READING COMPREHENSION:

Text:

Democracy has a lot of advantages that nobody should ignore. First, democracy makes people participate in governmental affairs. It makes them be interested in their country and gives them a sense of responsibility. In a democratic country, separation of powers is operated and avoids dictatorship. All citizens are regarded as politically equal, and there is no discrimination with regard to class, race, color and age. In addition, elections are held periodically to determine the life span of government in a democratic country with peaceful coexistence with the opposition. However, it has some disadvantages that we cannot ignore: it is very economically expensive due to the numerous different people who occupy the organs of government. Another factor is that people elected into parliament as representatives often pursue their own ends, promote party interests and their business interests rather than the collective interests.

Questions:

- 1) In a democratic country there are no laws. True / False?
- 2) State one advantage and one disadvantage of democracy.
- 3) Correct this sentence: Democracy is very economically cheap.
- 4) In a democratic country all citizens are regarded as:
